EIGHTEEN OF CREW ESCAPE

Sinking of Auxiliary Warship Occurs Off Coast of Scotland Last Thursday—Eighteen Survivors Are Taken on Board by Two Steamers Soon After the Disaster.

London, March 13.—The Belfast correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says the British auxiliary cruiser Bayano was torpedoed at 9 a. m. Thursday off Corsewall point, Wigtownshire, Scotland, and that nearly 200 lives were lost, as the cruiser sank almost immediately.

The vessel had a crew of about 216 men on board.

Wigtownshire is in the southwest-most county of Scotland. It lies on the north channel, which leads into the Irish sea from the Atlantic.

The eighteen survivors of the Bayano were rescued by the Belfast steamer Balmerino. They were afloat on a raft. Another steamer picked up one of the Bayano's lifeboats, which was adrift, and also two of her rafts. The survivors were landed at Ayr.

The admiralty announces the Bayano was sunk while engaged in patrol duty.

Admiralty Concedes Loss.

In its announcement of the disaster the admiralty says:

"On March 11 wreckage of the Bayano and bodies were discovered and circumstances point to her having been sunk by an enemy torpedo.

"Eight officers and eighteen men were rescued, but it is feared the remainder of the crew was lost.

The captain of the Belfast steamer Castlereagh reports passing Thursday morning a quantity of wreckage and dead bodies floating in life belts. He attempted to search for possible survivors, but was prevented by the presence of an enemy submarine, which gave chase for twenty minutes."

The Bayano was built at Glasgow in 1913 and was taken over by the British government and fitted out as an auxiliary cruiser.

The Bayano was of 3,500 tons displacement and 416 feet long.

BRITISH GAINING STEADILY

Sir John French Reports on Recent Operations.

London, March 13.—"We continue to make steady progress and hard fighting continues," says a report of the recent activities of the British army in the field from the headquarters of Field Marshal Sir John French—one of the semi-weekly communications recently arranged for by the government—given out by the official information bureau.

"The local initiative displayed by our troops daily is admirable. It says much for the spirit which animates the army. The success achieved March 10 and 11 is a striking example.

"Since my last communication the situation on our front between Armentieres and La Bassée has been altered materially by a successful initiative on the part of the troops engaged. Shortly after 8 a. m. Wednesday these troops assaulted and carried German trenches in the neighborhood of Neuve Chapelle."

GOVERNOR BYRNE PRAISED

Says South Dakota Executive Has Produced Best Message.

Pierre, S. D., March 13.—The governor of South Dakota is given credit for having produced the most statesmanlike message of any 1915 governor in a bulletin sent out by the American Economic league of Cincinnati.

The bulletin says:

"If a prize were offered for the most statesmanlike message this year from a governor to a legislature the winner would easily be Governor Frank M. Byrne of South Dakota. This is because in his recommendations the governor follows reason and logic regardless of conventional views and prejudices. On the question of taxation, for instance, he boldly says what too many other officials will but timidly hint, if they speak at all."

READY FOR EVENTUALITIES

Japanese Troops Dispatched to Northern China.

Yokohama, arch 13.—The dispatch of Japanese garrison troops to Manchuria and Northern China, which has been confirmed, has centered the attention of the country on the negotiations for concessions from China.

The newspapers express the belief that these military movements are in preparation for eventualities in case China declines to accede to Japan's demands.

It is their opinion that the old garrisons will remain until the negotiations are concluded satisfactorily.

Germans Deny French Claims.

Berlin, March 13.—Although the French reports for several weeks past have been claiming daily gains in the Champagne region it is said in well-informed quarters here that the total gains of the French during the entire battle have been insignificant, amounting only to about 100 meters (about 400 feet) at three different places.

BRITISH WARSHIPS FIVE IN NUMBER FORM BLOCKADE

(By United Press)

Newport News, Va., March 13.—Five British battleships are formed in blockade line just outside the port awaiting the attempt of the Prinz Eitel Frederick to dash for freedom. The British steamship Anglo Patagonian bound in brought the news that these battleships are waiting outside.

Officials of the American government have decided that the time to be allowed the German raider Prinz Eitel Frederick to repair at Newport News shall remain an official secret. Whether the vessel is to be interned probably will not be decided until the expiration of this limit, believed to be at least three weeks.

If the Eitel decides not to intern, the United States will keep secret, not only the time limit for repairs, but the hour of her departure. The belief prevails that the vessel will eventually intern, although the decision of the commander to have the repairs made has been puzzling to officials here, who believe that if the ship does not put to sea, it would be useless to incur the added expense of temporary repairs.

DARDENELLES BOMBARDMENT

(By United Press)

London, March 13.—The British vessel Triumph is successfully shelling Smyrna in a determined effort to force the fall of that city before Sunday. In the Dardanelles fighting the Triumph headed the fleet and did effective work. She was forced to withdraw from her position on account of the explosion of a shell on her decks. Namizigh continues to be a serious obstacle in forcing the Dardanelles, her batteries maintaining a steady fire into the channel.

In the recent fighting at the Carpathians between Uezek and Lupkow passes 5,000 Austrian-German prisoners were taken.

TALES OF LAST AWFUL MOMENTS

(By United Press)

Ayr, Scotland, March 13.—Lieutenant Commander Gay and the little group of survivors this afternoon told heart rending tales of the last awful moments aboard the British Auxiliary Cruiser Bayando before she sunk in St. Patrick's channel, the victim of a torpedo. The boat went down within five minutes after the torpedo struck her and the 200 men on board were given no chance to escape and were lost.

Capt. Carr standing on the bridge, cool and smiling, waved good bye and shouted to the men in the boats "Good luck to you, boys."

BIGGEST BATTLE OF WAR RAGING

Over a Million Men Engaged on the Eastern Front.

GERMANS MAKING PROGRESS

Berlin issues an Official Report Stating That They Are Forcing the Russians to Retire. While Petrograd Admits They May Have to Fall Back Beyond Przasnysz.

London, March 13.—The battle taking place on the eastern front, experts say, is the biggest pitched battle of the war, no less than 1,000,000 men being engaged in it. The Germans in their official report claim to have made some advance, while Petrograd considers it likely the Russians will have to fall back beyond Przasnysz, as they did last month, before making their stand.

It probably will be days before a definite result is attained in this battle, as with the frozen roads the Russians can push forward reinforcements and choose their battle ground.

Meanwhile another German army has appeared on the Pilica river front, south of the Vistula, probably, military observers say, with the idea of inducing Grand Duke Nicholas to withdraw men from the north, where the real blow is being struck.

Just as the French attacked the Germans in the western campaign, when Field Marshal von Hindenburg made his big rush from East Prussia last month, so the British army operating in Flanders has undertaken the task of relieving the pressure on its Russian ally, now that the Russians again are being attacked in North Poland.

Part of General Plan.

This is part of the general plan of the allied generals. When one is attacked the other attacks, so as to compel the Germans and Austrians to keep strong forces at every point and endeavor to prevent them from sending new troops where they would do the most good.

At present the Germans are occupied in an attempt to crush the Russians. For this purpose they are reported to have an army estimated at nearly a half million men marching along the roads toward Przasnysz.

To prevent this army from being further strengthened the British are thrusting at the German lines north of La Bassée and besides reporting the capture of the village of Neuve Chapelle it is asserted they have advanced beyond that town.

Along the foothills of the Carpathians fighting between the Austrians and Russians continues amid wintry weather conditions. Strangely enough, each side claims that the other is doing the attacking, but it is believed here that as the Austrians initiated this battle they probably are still the aggressors.

MRS. ROCKEFELLER IS DEAD

Wife of Oil Magnate Passes Away at Country Home.

New York, March 13.—Mrs. John D. Rockefeller died at her home in Tarrytown, N. Y. Mrs. Rockefeller died at the Rockefeller country home at Pocantico Hills, just outside of Tarrytown, where she had been ill for some time. She was seventy-six years of age.

While Mrs. Rockefeller has been an invalid for many months it is understood that her death came rather unexpectedly. Her husband, John D. Rockefeller, and her son were at Ormond, Fla.

When one considers that her husband is one of the best known men in the world it must be agreed that Mrs. John D. Rockefeller led a life of great obscurity. She did not have a large circle of friends in what is called "society" in which she never mixed. But this was not due to lack of ability. Mr. Rockefeller once said:

"Had it not been for my wife's business sagacity and her clear insight into affairs I would be a poor man. Many times her advice has been counter to my ideas, but her judgment has invariably proved the better."

ASKS FRANCE ABOUT DACIA

United States Inquires as to Intention With Steamer.

Washington, March 13.—The United States has sent an inquiry to France to learn its purpose regarding the American steamer Dacia, before a prize court at Brest. The ship, with cotton from Galveston, was seized by a French cruiser.

Papers submitted to the state department by the owner of the Dacia, formerly a Hamburg-American steamer, will, in the opinion of the officials here, make a strong case to support the validity of her transfer to American registry.

CRUISER TO GUARD HARBOR AT BOSTON

Alleged Plot to Turn German Vessels Into Warships.

Washington, March 13.—Secretary Daniels announced that the armored cruiser Brooklyn, receiving ship at Boston navy yard, had been ordered to patrol the harbor there to guard against violations of neutrality.

The German auxiliary cruiser Kronprinzessin Cecilie is interned at Boston. Although officials here continue to deny that any evidence had been discovered to bear out stories of a plot to turn German steamers laid up at American ports into warships and rush them out to sea developments of the past three days have demonstrated the government's determination to take extraordinary precautions against any violation of neutrality.

Four warships and a coast guard cutter have now been detailed for patrol duty in Boston and New York harbors.

ASSERT ATTACK IS FEEBLE

Russians Issue Report on Present German Activities.

London, March 13.—Reuter's Petrograd correspondent sends a semi-official communication issued in the Russian capital, which says:

"The bombardment of Osowetz has weakened somewhat. The Germans are sparing their shells.

"The German offensive on our positions at Przasnysz is being conducted rather feebly. Their artillery has developed a violent fire, but the infantry prefers to entrench 1,500 paces from our lines.

"To the east of Plock, near the village of Cikanowo, our fire, directed against an enemy battery, exploded a great quantity of ammunition."

FIND BODY IN HOTEL RUINS

Frank O'Brien, Bartender, Minneapolis Fire Victim.

PUNISHMENT IS INSISTED UPON

United States Resents Killing in Mexico City.

AMERICAN CITIZEN IS SLAIN

Brazilian Embassy at the Mexican Capital Reports to Washington That John B. McManus, Wealthy Resident of the United States, Has Been Murdered.

Washington, March 13.—Encouragement regarding the Mexican situation, awakened in government circles by the report that with the evacuation of Mexico City by General Obregon had come relief from the food shortage, suffered a severe relapse when the Brazilian embassy at the Mexican capital reported the killing of John B. McManus, an American citizen.

Instant demand was made by the Brazilian minister, on behalf of the United States government, for the punishment of those guilty of the crime. After a conference between President Wilson and his cabinet Secretary Bryan telegraphed the Brazilian minister, approving of the action he had taken and adding a demand for reparation to the family of the victim.

The minister was instructed to insist on the early punishment of the offenders and to impress upon the post commander at Mexico City—General Salazar—the seriousness with which the American government viewed the occurrence.

The occupation of the city by Zapata forces, which were enthusiastically greeted by the people, was marred by three cases of looting.

Foreigners Become Alarmed.

It was said that the killing of McManus at first alarmed the foreigners, but when it became apparent that the attack on McManus was an isolated case and that assurances had been given for the protection of foreigners generally the tension was relieved.

The Brazilian minister reported at length on the murder. The motive for the crime, he explained, was undoubtedly one of revenge for the killing of two Zapata soldiers by McManus when their forces last left Mexico City.

It was said that on that occasion the soldiers attempted to loot McManus' home.

The killing of McManus, coming after the serious developments of the situation in Mexico City of the last week, increased apprehension here in official quarters for the safety of foreigners. During Obregon's occupation of the city a Swedish subject and four Spaniards were killed.

Secretary Bryan is preparing to insist that the railway between Mexico City and Vera Cruz be kept open for transportation of foreigners, regardless of what authorities are in control at either end.

NEW AVIATION MARK IS SET

Army Airman Remains Aloft Seven Hours and Five Minutes.

San Diego, Cal., March 13.—What is said to be a new American endurance record for an aeroplane carrying passengers was established here by Lieutenant Byron Q. Jones, U. S. A. With two corporals in his machine the officer remained aloft seven hours and five minutes.

The total distance covered was approximately 441 miles. An altitude of 5,000 feet was attained.

JUST RETURNS FROM MEXICO

Bishop McConnell Says Conditions Are Inconceivable.

Denver, March 13.—Black smallpox has broken out in Tampico and Vera Cruz and thousands of persons throughout Mexico are threatened with starvation, according to Bishop E. J. McConnell.

The bishop has just returned from Mexico, where he attended a conference of Methodist ministers of the country at Orizaba, ninety miles from Vera Cruz.

"It is impossible to conceive of the horrors existing in Mexico," said Bishop McConnell. "Disease threatens to kill thousands who have survived the long period of fighting. Business is suspended, railways are out of commission and the entire country is penniless. Paper scrip has taken the place of real money and food supplies are extremely scarce."

Fights Epidemic in Mexico.

Washington, March 13.—The Red Cross sent 2,000,000 diphtheria antitoxin units to El Paso, Tex., for use in Chihuahua, Mexico, where an epidemic is reported raging. In Nequeli's vicinity 300 cases are reported. The Red Cross will also send two hospital staffs to Belgium.

BIGGEST BATTLE OF WAR RAGING

Over a Million Men Engaged on the Eastern Front.

GERMANS MAKING PROGRESS

Berlin Issues an Official Report Stating That They Are Forcing the Russians to Retire, While Petrograd Admits They May Have to Fall Back Beyond Przasnysz.

London, March 13.—The battle taking place on the eastern front, experts say, is the biggest pitched battle of the war, no less than 1,000,000 men being engaged in it. The Germans in their official report claim to have made some advance, while Petrograd considers it likely the Russians will have to fall back beyond Przasnysz, as they did last month, before making their stand.

It probably will be days before a definite result is attained in this battle, as with the frozen roads the Russians can push forward reinforcements and choose their battle ground.

Meanwhile another German army has appeared on the Pilica river front, south of the Vistula, probably, military observers say, with the idea of inducing Grand Duke Nicholas to withdraw men from the north, where the real blow is being struck.

Just as the French attacked the Germans in the western campaign, when Field Marshal von Hindenburg made his big rush from East Prussia last month, so the British army operating in Flanders has undertaken the task of relieving the pressure on its Russian ally, now that the Russians again are being attacked in North Poland.

Part of General Plan.

This is part of the general plan of the allied generals. When one is attacked the other attacks, so as to compel the Germans and Austrians to keep strong forces at every point and endeavor to prevent them from sending new troops where they would do the most good.

At present the Germans are occupied in an attempt to crush the Russians. For this purpose they are reported to have an army estimated at nearly a half million men marching along the roads toward Przasnysz. To prevent this army from being further strengthened the British are thrusting at the German lines north of La Bassée and besides reporting the capture of the village of Neuve Chapelle it is asserted they have advanced beyond that town.

Along the foothills of the Carpathians fighting between the Austrians and Russians continues amid wintry weather conditions. Strangely enough, each side claims that the other is doing the attacking, but it is believed here that as the Austrians initiated this battle they probably are still the aggressors.

MRS. ROCKEFELLER IS DEAD

Wife of Oil Magnate Passes Away at Country Home.

New York, March 13.—Mrs. John D. Rockefeller died at her home in Tarrytown, N. Y. Mrs. Rockefeller died at the Rockefeller country home at Pocantico Hills, just outside of Tarrytown, where she had been ill for some time. She was seventy-six years of age.

While Mrs. Rockefeller has been an invalid for many months it is understood that her death came rather unexpectedly. Her husband, John D. Rockefeller, and her son were at Ormond, Fla.

When one considers that her husband is one of the best known men in the world it must be agreed that Mrs. John D. Rockefeller led a life of great obscurity. She did not have a large circle of friends in what is called "society" in which she never mixed. But this was not due to lack of ability. Mr. Rockefeller once said:

"Had it not been for my wife's business sagacity and her clear insight into affairs I would be a poor man. Many times her advice has been counter to my ideas, but her judgment has invariably proved the better."

ASKS FRANCE ABOUT DACIA

United States Inquires as to Intention With Steamer.

Washington, March 13.—The United States has sent an inquiry to France to learn its purpose regarding the American steamer Dacia, before a prize court at Brest. The ship, with cotton from Galveston, was seized by a French cruiser.

Papers submitted to the state department by the owner of the Dacia, formerly a Hamburg-American steamer, will, in the opinion of the officials here, make a strong case to support the validity of her transfer to American registry.

Mayor Mitchel of New York promised in an address he delivered at a meeting under the auspices of the woman suffrage party in Brooklyn that he would vote for woman suffrage in November.

The mayor said he is convinced it was only a matter of time before women would vote in this state. Some of those present recalled that last May Mayor Mitchel asserted in an address that he believed women did not need suffrage to bring them into public life.

CRUISER TO GUARD HARBOR AT BOSTON

Alleged Plot to Turn German Vessels Into Warships.

Washington, March 13.—Secretary Daniels announced that the armored cruiser Brooklyn, receiving ship at Boston navy yard, had been ordered to patrol the harbor there to guard against violations of neutrality. The German auxiliary cruiser Kronprinzessin Cecilie is interned at Boston.

Although officials here continue to deny that any evidence had been discovered to bear out stories of a plot to turn German steamers laid up at American ports into warships and rush them out to sea developments of the past three days have demonstrated the government's determination to take extraordinary precautions against any violation of neutrality.

Four warships and a coast guard cutter have now been detailed for patrol duty in Boston and New York harbors.

ASSERT ATTACK IS FEEBLE

Russians Issue Report on Present German Activities.

London, March 13.—Reuter's Petrograd correspondent sends a semi-official communication issued in the Russian capital, which says:

"The bombardment of Ossowetz has weakened somewhat. The Germans are sparing their shells."

"The German offensive on our positions at Przasnysz is being conducted rather feebly. Their artillery has developed a violent fire, but the infantry prefers to entrench 1,500 paces from our lines."

"To the east of Plock, near the village of Okanowo, our fire, directed against an enemy battery, exploded a great quantity of ammunition."

FIND BODY IN HOTEL RUINS

Frank O'Brien, Bartender, Minneapolis Fire Victim.

Minneapolis, March 13.—A body identified as that of Frank O'Brien, a bartender, was taken from the ruins of the Astoria hotel, recently burned. Police believe other bodies may be found in the ruins.

A woman acquaintance of O'Brien and an unidentified Greek are believed to be in the ruins. The hotel register was burned, Robert Mason, proprietor, says.

No Funds to Enforce Law.

Olympia, Wash., March 13.—The sixty-day session of the legislature adjourned without passing an appropriation to enforce the prohibition law adopted at the election last November. All efforts to resubmit the prohibition question were defeated.

PUNISHMENT IS INSISTED UPON

United States Resents Killing in Mexico City.

AMERICAN CITIZEN IS SLAIN

Brazilian Embassy at the Mexican Capital Reports to Washington That John B. McManus, Wealthy Resident of the United States, Has Been Murdered.

Washington, March 13.—Encouragement regarding the Mexican situation, awakened in government circles by the report that with the evacuation of Mexico City by General Obregon had come relief from the food shortage, suffered a severe relapse when the Brazilian embassy at the Mexican capital reported the killing of John B. McManus, an American citizen.

Instant demand was made by the Brazilian minister, on behalf of the United States government, for the punishment of those guilty of the crime. After a conference between President Wilson and his cabinet Secretary Bryan telegraphed the Brazilian minister, approving of the action he had taken and adding a demand for reparation to the family of the victim.

The minister was instructed to insist on the early punishment of the offenders and to impress upon the post commander at Mexico City—General Salazar—the seriousness with which the American government viewed the occurrence.

The occupation of the city by Zapata forces, which were enthusiastically greeted by the people, was marred by three cases of looting.

Foreigners Become Alarmed.

It was said that the killing of McManus at first alarmed the foreigners, but when it became apparent that the attack on McManus was an isolated case and that assurances had been given for the protection of foreigners generally the "tension" was relieved. The Brazilian minister reported at length on the murder. The motive for the crime, he explained, was undoubtedly one of revenge for the killing of two Zapata soldiers by McManus when their forces last left Mexico City.

It was said that on that occasion the soldiers attempted to loot McManus' home.

The killing of McManus, coming after the serious developments of the situation in Mexico City of the last week, increased apprehension here in official quarters for the safety of foreigners. During Obregon's occupation of the city a Swedish subject and four Spaniards were killed.

Secretary Bryan is preparing to insist that the railway between Mexico City and Vera Cruz be kept open for transportation of foreigners, regardless of what authorities are in control at either end.

NEW AVIATION MARK IS SET

Army Airman Remains Aloft Seven Hours and Five Minutes.

San Diego, Cal., March 13.—What is said to be a new American endurance record for an aeroplane carrying passengers was established here by Lieutenant Byron Q. Jones, U. S. A. With two corporals in his machine the officer remained aloft seven hours and five minutes.

The total distance covered was approximately 441 miles. An altitude of 5,900 feet was attained.

JUST RETURNS FROM MEXICO

Bishop McConnell Says Conditions Are Inconceivable.

Denver, March 13.—Black smallpox has broken out in Tampico and Vera Cruz and thousands of persons throughout Mexico are threatened with starvation, according to Bishop F. J. McConnell.

The bishop has just returned from Mexico, where he attended a conference of Methodist ministers of the country at Orizaba, ninety miles from Vera Cruz.

"It is impossible to conceive of the horrors existing in Mexico," said Bishop McConnell. "Disease threatens to kill thousands who have survived the long period of fighting. Business is suspended, railways are out of commission and the entire country is penniless. Paper scrip has taken the place of real money and food supplies are extremely scarce."

Fights Epidemic in Mexico.

Washington, March 13.—The Red Cross sent 2,000,000 diphtheria antitoxin units to El Paso, Tex., for use in Chihuahua, Mexico, where an epidemic is reported raging. In Nequiqui vicinity 300 cases are reported. The Red Cross will also send two hospital staffs to Belgium.

committee to take charge of visiting

THE EMPTY TOMB.

Its Story and Significance Told in Easter Sermon.

It is Friday afternoon. With "It is finished" his head drops upon his breast, and the hopes of his disciples are shattered. Pilate is glad to find some balm for his uneasy conscience
by granting the request of the rich friend, Joseph of Arimathea, for the body. Nicodemus, scholarly, timid and shrinking, comes into the light again, joining in the embalming, because he cannot forget the evening's talk with the great Teacher. The tomb is sealed.
He is alone, save for his watching enemies. The world's hopes are dead. In him they had flamed high; now they are ashes. They who loved him cherish the past, but have no future. The long sorrowful Sabbath day at last is waning; the first day is dawning.

Through the mists of the morning, hands laden with the treasures of the heart, while silver light of star and golden gleam of sun mingle, the Marys sadly seek the tomb, hoping to perform the last service of loving devotion. They approach with timidity, fear, awe, wonder.

Lo, the stone is rolled back! One sits upon it clothed in light. He has hastened from heaven to anticipate their coming and to change their sorrow into song by the announcement,
"He is not here; he is risen." The women hasten to tell his disciples.
Hope, the last spark of which had gone out, is kindled again in human hearts.
Forty day he lingers on the earth until the most skeptical cries, "My Lord and my God." Every disciple becomes a herald of his resurrection. They seal their testimony with their blood.

Only the fact of Christ's resurrection can explain the revived hopes of his despondent followers. Only a personality that lives can rule the world as Christ rules it today. Every believer may share this Easter morning the resurrection hope as it sends the sunlight of heaven into every darkened heart and into every open grave, revealing anew, "He is not here; he is risen."

Every tomb is now empty. May you who stand, in fact or in imagination, by the grave of loved ones today catch the vision and hear the voice, "He is not here; he is risen."

Death is not a wall, but a door into life. As evening promises morning, as winter spring, as the seed flowers, so death promises life.—Rev. Dr. George W. Shelton, Pittsburgh.

The Word Easier.

Easter to the French is known as Paques; to the Scotch, Pasch; the Danes, Paaske, and the Dutch, Paschen.
St. Paul calls Christ "our Pasch." The English name is derived from that of the old German or Saxon goddess of spring, Ostera or Eastre, whose festival occurred about the same time of the year as the celebration of Easter. "When the early missionaries went to Britain they found the people worshipping this goddess, to whom the month of April, which they called Easturmouath, was dedicated. The missionaries substituted the Christian feast for the old heathen one, but they allowed the people to give it the name of their goddess, and so the word
Easter came to be used.

FOR EASTER DAYEaster.

Ring loud and clear your bells for Easter time,
Now quick, now slow;
From sea to sea catch up the happy
chime.
Bring all the flowers that blow
For wreath and crown an offering pure and sweet
Christ's rising morn to greet.

Ring long and deep your bells for suffering borne
With patient grace;
Bring purple pansies, colors that are worn
Best with a sorrowing face,
And weave with pine and cypress and
young moss
The emblematic cross.

Ring soft and slow your bells a tender
knell
And softly weep;
Bring amaranth and stainless asphodel
In memory of that sleep
Which wrapped the world in three days' ashen gloom
While he was in the tomb.

Ring, ring your bells across the happy
land
This Easter morn!
Christ sits in heaven at the Father's hand.
Bring blossoms to adorn
A conquered death, whose victim has arisen,
A grave which is no prison.
—Juliet Marsh Isham in New York Times.

Inquiries

"Say, pal, what has become of that feller named Schmidt?
Yeah, the one that we used call
"Dutch."
He ed sure make ya laugh yerself inter

With his comical stories and such."

"Oh, him? Went to th' ol' country some time ago.
He was 'called to th' colors,' he said.
(Per he never did take out his papers, y' know.)
An' I heard awhile back he was dead.

"Dead. Dead. Dead.
He's a layin' there all over blood.
With a gash in his head an' his chest
full o' shot.
(But he didn't die quick, an' he suffered a lot.)
An' they can't stop to bury pore Schmidt
in th' mud.
'Cause he's dead."

"An' say, where is that feller from 'Lun-
non, ye know?'
That was such a good lad with his fists?"
"Oh, his country was needin' more sojers,
an' so
He jes' hurries back home an' enlists.
Now, there was a mechanic; worked next bench 't mine.
Lot of ideas, too, in his head.
But they'll never work out, fer I jes' got a line
From his pal sayin' Tommy was dead.
"Dead. Dead. Dead.
He was in a trench over in France.
When along come a shell an' it bust on
th' spot.
(What they found of pore Tom wa'n't an awful lot.)
Seems 't me like he didn't have much of
a chance.
An' he's dead."

Miss Elizabeth Armstrong Pupil of Oscar Seagle, Baritone, in
New York City

SHE ATTENDS HIS RECITAL

She is Favored by Getting Tickets for Every Student in the Comstock
School for Girls

Miss Elizabeth Armstrong is taking vocal instruction from one of the greatest instructors, Oscar Seagle, and is also attending the Comstock school for girls in New York City.
Mr. Seagle had a recital recently and favored Miss Armstrong, by giving her tickets for every pupil in the Comstock school.

Of Mr. Seagle the New York Times says in part: "Mr. Oscar Seagle, an American baritone known in New York by his recitals here in the last two seasons, gave another in Carnegie Hall. As a newcomer two years ago he surprised and pleased his hearers by the manifold excellences of his voice and method. The latter he obtained from Mr. Jean de Reszke, whose pupil he had been, and for a time one of his assistants in teaching.
"His baritone voice has an unusually beautiful quality, exceptional power and sonority, high range, and a timbre of a peculiarly sympathetic kind. Mr. Seagle showed not only these natural gifts, but also an unusually finished style, a fine training which gives him an unerring control, a complete technical command of his resources.

"Mr. Seagle sang songs in Italian, French, German and English. His greatest success was gained in the older songs of his program, in Italian and French, as they have been in some of his previous appearances here.
"Such singing as Mr. Seagle's not only gives an unusual pleasure on account of the beauty of his voice and the finish and mastery of vocalization displayed, but is also of notable value and interest as an exemplification of the correct utilization of the gifts of God."

Miss Armstrong also had the pleasure of attending grand opera, hearing
Geraldine Farrar and Antonio Scotti in Mme. Butterfly.

Sluggish Liver Needs Care

Someone has said that people with

THE NEW CHARTER

Edited by the members of the Charter Commission favorable to new charter.

The new charter to be voted on in April will be distributed before long. The law does not compel the publication nor the distribution of the same. It is being done, however, to give every one an opportunity to read it and then ask questions. Meanwhile it is deemed advisable to give an epitome of parts of the charter, from time to time, explaining the features of these various parts, thereby making it easier for you to read the printed form, and easier to understand when you know in a way what is coming. Often a question will bring out a point which is important but may be overlooked by us. We also invite your contributions to these columns, for after we have explained generally the contents of the charter we will publish arguments on those points which are generally picked out as being plows. Remember we want you to send us your questions. We will answer all that can be answered, and hope thereby to clear up some other voter's mind.

OUR PREAMBLE

"No form of government can in and of itself produce good results. The most that any plan can do is to provide an organization which LENDS itself to EFFICIENT action, and which at the same time places in the hands of the electorate some simple and effective means for controlling their government in their own interests. Beyond that results can only be obtained thru an enlightened public opinion."

Chapter VII, Sec. 65 to 67, Inclusive

Recall, Initiative and Referendum

Recall—Any elective office holder may be removed by the qualified electors equal to 25 per cent of the total ballots cast at the last preceding general municipal election. Petition must contain a statement of not more than 200 words of the grounds on which the removal is sought. Form of petition is prescribed. Filed with city clerk. Clerk examines signatures, and delivers petition to council. Within ten days a special election is designated to be held within the next 40 or 50 days. Publication is prescribed. The ballot also contains the charge on which recall is sought.

At such election no person shall be voted for, and only the recall proposition shall be voted on at that election.

No recall petition shall be filed against any official until he has held office for at least three months, nor for at least three months after a recall election has been decided in his favor. No recalled official shall be appointed to any other office within a year after such recall.

In case a majority of the council is recalled, the calling for another election is made by the municipal judge.

Initiative—Any proposed ordinance of the city may be submitted to the city council by a petition. Petition sets out the proposed legislation, is signed by electors under oath, and presented to City Clerk.

(1) If 20 per cent of the total ballots cast (see recall above) are represented as signers, and the petition requests that said ordinance be submitted forthwith, then the city council can act as follows: (a) Pass the ordinance without alteration within 20 days after the clerk O. K.'s the same, (b) within 25 days call a special election to be held between 40 and 50 days.

(2) If at least 10 per cent sign and not more than 20 per cent, and said ordinance is not passed by the council, (a) then said ordinance goes to the people at the next general municipal election.

(3) Upon any ordinance being submitted to the council, after 10 days the council may pass an alternative ordinance. If, then, after 10 days not less than 50 per cent of the petitioners withdraw their names, the petition becomes void and the alternative ordinance stands. If 50 per cent do not withdraw, then the petition goes before the voters, but at same time the council's alternative ordinance is presented, and the voter makes his choice of the two.

At the same election amendments or repeals may be submitted. An ordinance proposed by petition or adopted by a vote of the people, cannot be repealed or amended except by a vote of the people.

Only one special election on the initiative feature allowed in any six months period, nor any if a general municipal election is due within 60 days.

Referendum.—No ordinance passed by the council is to be effective until 30 days after its last publication. If during said 30 days a petition is signed by 10 per cent of voters (as explained above) protesting against said ordinance, ordinance is suspended temporarily for the reconsideration by council. If not repealed it goes to the voters, either at the next general municipal election, or at a special election called for that purpose.

Council shall not make any contract or provision for a period of over six months duration for heat, light, power, transportation, or any other public utility, to the city or its inhabitants except by ordinance, and such ordinance shall not be deemed an emergency ordinance.

Council may of its own accord refer ordinances to the general public for vote.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. ANOTHER CRISIS
NEAR IN MEXICO

Congress May Be Called In Session Sooner Than Anticipated.

CONDITIONS GROW CHAOTIC

Demands of Foreign Powers For Protection of Interests Likely to Force Action—Villa and Carranza, Once Aided by the Administration, Are Unappreciative.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, March 13.—[Special.]—Congress may be called sooner than was anticipated when the session closed last week. The situation in Mexico is growing so much worse that intervention—something that is sure to come—may be hastened.

So far as the present administration is concerned no action which means armed intervention and war will be allowed until the last extremity. Just when that will be reached is hard to say, but the foreign governments with people in Mexico may force action.

Disregard of life and property marks the management of Mexican affairs under the different factions, and foreign governments feel that they must take steps for the preservation of their people if the United States makes no move.

Ungrateful Revolutionists.

The administration cannot but feel that two of the Mexican leaders are ungrateful. When Carranza and Villa were partners and struggling in northern Mexico they were befriended by the United States government. Much reliance was placed upon them. The fight at Vera Cruz and war on Huerta hastened events which made these leaders powerful.

And now both of them are ungrateful, Carranza especially, who refuses to carry out the wishes of this government and who insisted that the American forces should vacate Vera Cruz. A great many people believe that if American troops occupied Vera Cruz now there would not be such tales of starvation and outrage coming from the City of Mexico. At all events, neither Carranza nor Villa show any appreciation of the confidence which United States officials placed in them for a year past.

"Kind Words Never Die."

They spread it on thick on the last day of the session. In no other legislative body except the house of representatives do members grow quite so "mushy" when a session comes to a close. Four men were selected for an unusual amount of taffy on March 4: Clark, Underwood, Mann and Murdock. Underwood was going to the senate, and Murdock was going out. Mitchell Palmer started it with an encomium upon Underwood. The latter passed the sweet dish along to Champ Clark and Jim Mann, and Clark and Mann handed sweet things to each other and to Vic Murdock.

However, it must be remembered that they had all been up the best part of two nights and days and were pretty nearly fagged out.

A Postoffice Threat.

Chairman Moon of the house post-office committee was not at all pleased with the provision for the rural carriers which went into the joint resolution appropriating money for the post-office department at the close of the session and in telling the house what he thought remarked that the men who had been trying to provide for the carriers had overreached themselves; that the postoffice department intended to consolidate routes and thus reduce the number of carriers in spite of the effort to increase their salaries. If this is done it is certain that the carriers will be cared for by ironclad legislation in the next congress.

Out of a Job.

The enactment of the seaman's bill knocks Andrew Furuseth out of a job. For twenty years he has haunted congress in an effort to secure this legislation. The tall, gaunt, homely figure is as familiar as any other landmark about the capitol. Now that he has secured the legislation, he will be out of a job unless the grateful seamen decide to make him a permanent fixture as a representative of their interests in Washington.

In the Hands of a Dozen.

Two years ago when the Democrats took charge of the senate several of the new members, led by Hoke Smith, decided that no senator should have a place on more than one big committee. Well, it worked for awhile, but gradually it came back to the old idea that a few senators secured two or more good committee places.

Just to take the five most important committees—finance, foreign relations, judiciary, appropriations and commerce—and we find the following Democrats holding down two places: Chamberlain, Clarke, Culberson, Fletcher, Martin, O'Gorman, Overman, Simmons, Hoke Smith, Stone and Williams. In addition nearly all those named hold important chairmanships, and nearly all are on committees which have a great deal to do with shaping the business of the senate. And so we see there is no difference in parties so far as running the senate is concerned. Its management centers in the hands of a comparatively few men.

GOOD MANNERS.

Little Acts That Speak Loud About a Person's Breeding.

It is always the merest trifles rather than the big things of life which indicate the manners and tastes of the average person, says a writer in the London Chronicle. A glaring social error, a particularly rude action or tactless speech are not made with too great frequency, but other less obtrusive faults are often committed—sometimes solely through ignorance or want of thought.

It is just as grave a mistake to be too polite as to be abominably rude. The painstakingly polite person is very trying to encounter, for extremes often meet, and he generally succeeds in being actually ill bred. For instance, there is always the man who, in the mistaken idea that a woman should always precede him, allows her to fight her way into a crowded train, descend unaided and walk before him into a restaurant that is rather full.

Removing his right glove before shaking hands with a woman; raising his hat when he offers a damsel his seat in a car; carefully piloting his fair companion across a crowded street; walking on the outside of the pavement and refraining from sitting when talking to a woman who happens to be standing, are all instances of those little things which mark the good breeding and thoughtfulness of a man. Unfortunately in some cases these things do not come by instinct, but rather through the hard school of experience.

On the other hand, a woman requires to be just as careful of her manners. It is very exciting no doubt to talk loudly and initiate casual heavers into the mysteries of an intimate conversation with another woman. Unfortunately the listeners are only contemptuously impressed with the fact that the speaker is incapable of controlling her own voice.

It is usually either nervousness or thoughtlessness that prompts a woman to display her worst side to the world. She will take a seat that is offered to her in a crowded car without a word of thanks or else will make the chivalrous person feel still more embarrassed by a quick and emphatic refusal to profit by his generosity, or perhaps she will rush through swing doors without bothering to notice if any one is likely to be caught in the rebound, elbow people who are in her way, walk on the wrong side of the street or fail to remember that she must always bow first to her men acquaintances before they raise their hats.

What Our Saloons
Cost our city each year

In order to arrive at the economical loss of our city from the saloons licensed to do business in our city some idea must be had of the amount of business done by these places.

In the following table it should be remembered that some saloons might spend less for some items while it is certain that the majority pay more. We have tried to be conservative in our estimation. This is an estimate of the expenses they must meet before they make anything outside of the twelve hundred dollars allotted as living expenses for the saloon keeper.

License for 21 saloons.....	$21,000.00
Support of 21 saloon keepers at $100 a month.....	25,200.00
Rent at $60 a month.....	15,120.00
Two bar tenders at $60 a month each.....	30,240.00
Lights at $10 per month.....	2,520.00
General expenses at $15 a month.....	3,780.00
	$97,850.00

Allow the saloon keeper 40 per cent gross profit and to pay the above expense account the saloons of our city must sell each year to amount of

$244,650.00

How much more is taken in is but conjecture. Many men, who have followed the workings of the business in the city, estimate that $300,000.00 is a reasonable amount to estimate.

Allowing that the saloons do a business of.....	$250,000.00
Grant that 10% comes from transients.....	25,000.00
Leaving low estimate of Brainerd's spendings.....	$225,000.00

Chapter VII, Sec. 65 to 67, Inclusive
Recall, Initiative and Referendum

Recall—Any elective office holder may be removed by the qualified electors equal to 25 per cent of the total ballots cast at the last preceding general municipal election. Petition must contain a statement of not more than 200 words of the grounds on which the removal is sought. Form of petition is prescribed. Filed with city clerk. Clerk examines signatures, and delivers petition to council. Within ten days a special election is designated to be held within the next 40 or 50 days. Publication is prescribed. The ballot also contains the charge on which recall is sought.

At such election no person shall be voted for, and only the recall proposition shall be voted on at that election.

No recall petition shall be filed against any official until he has held office for at least three months, nor for at least three months after a recall election has been decided in his favor. No recalled official shall be appointed to any other office within a year after such recall.

In case a majority of the council is recalled, the calling for another election is made by the municipal judge.

Initiative—Any proposed ordinance of the city may be submitted to the city council by a petition. Petition sets out the proposed legislation. It is signed by electors under oath, and presented to City Clerk.

(1) If 20 per cent of the total ballots cast (see recall above) are represented as signers, and the petition requests that said ordinance be submitted forthwith, then the city council can act as follows: (a) Pass the ordinance without alteration within 20 days after the clerk O. K.'s the same, (b) within 25 days call a special election to be held between 40 and 50 days.

(2) If at least 10 per cent sign and not more than 20 per cent, and said ordinance is not passed by the council, (a) then said ordinance goes to the people at the next General municipal election.

(3) Upon any ordinance being submitted to the council, after 10 days the council may pass an alternative ordinance. If, then, after 10 days not less than 50 per cent of the petitioners withdraw their names, the petition becomes void and the alternative ordinance stands. If 50 per cent do not withdraw, then the petition goes before the voters, but at same time the council's alternative ordinance is presented, and the voter makes his choice of the two.

At the same election amendments or repeals may be submitted. An ordinance proposed by petition or adopted by a vote of the people, cannot be repealed or amended except by a vote of the people.

Only one special election on the initiative feature allowed in any six months period, nor any if a general municipal election is due within 60 days.

Referendum.—No ordinance passed by the council is to be effective until 30 days after its last publication. If during said 30 days a petition is signed by 10 per cent of voters (as explained above) protesting against said ordinance, ordinance is suspended temporarily for the reconsideration by council. If not repealed it goes to the voters, either at the next general municipal election, or at a special election called for that purpose.

Council shall not make any contract or provision for a period of over six months duration for heat, light, power, transportation, or any other public utility, to the city or its inhabitants except by ordinance, and such ordinance shall not be deemed an emergency ordinance.

Council may of its own accord refer ordinances to the general public for vote.

Little Acts That Speak Loud About a Person's Breeding.

It is always the merest trifles rather than the big things of life which indicate the manners and tastes of the average person, says a writer in the London Chronicle. A glaring social error, a particularly rude action or tactless speech are not made with too great frequency, but other less obtrusive faults are often committed—sometimes solely through ignorance or want of thought.

It is just as grave a mistake to be too polite as to be abominably rude. The painstakingly polite person is very trying to encounter, for extremes often meet, and he generally succeeds in being actually ill bred. For instance, there is always the man who, in the mistaken idea that a woman should always precede him, allows her to fight her way into a crowded train, descend unaided and walk before him into a restaurant that is rather full.

Removing his right glove before shaking hands with a woman; raising his hat when he offers a damsel his seat in a car; carefully piloting his fair companion across a crowded street; walking on the outside of the pavement and refraining from sitting when talking to a woman who happens to be standing, are all instances of those little things which mark the good breeding and thoughtfulness of a man. Unfortunately in some cases these things do not come by instinct, but rather through the hard school of experience.

On the other hand, a woman requires to be just as careful of her manners. It is very exciting no doubt to talk loudly and initiate casual hearers into the mysteries of an intimate conversation with another woman. Unfortunately the listeners are only contemptuously impressed with the fact that the speaker is incapable of controlling her own voice.

It is usually either nervousness or thoughtlessness that prompts a woman to display her worst side to the world. She will take a seat that is offered to her in a crowded car without a word of thanks or else will make the chivalrous person feel still more embarrassed by a quick and emphatic refusal to profit by his generosity, or perhaps she will rush through swing doors without bothering to notice if any one is likely to be caught in the rebound, elbow people who are in her way, walk on the wrong side of the street or fail to remember that she must always bow first to her men acquaintances before they raise their hats.

Cruel.

He—Men are descended from monkeys. She—Some haven't descended yet.—Judge.

What Our Saloons
Cost our city each year

In order to arrive at the economical loss of our city from the saloons licensed to do business in our city some idea must be had of the amount of business done by these places.

In the following table it should be remembered that some saloons might spend less for some items while it is certain that the majority pay more. We have tried to be conservative in our estimation. This is an estimate of the expenses they must meet before they make anything outside of the twelve hundred dollars allotted as living expenses for the saloon keeper.

License for 21 saloons.....	$21,000.00
Support of 21 saloon Keepers at $100 a month.....	25,200.00
Rent at $60 a month.....	15,120.00
Two bar tenders at $60 a month each.....	30,240.00
Lights at $10 per month.....	2,520.00
General expenses at $15 a month....	3,780.00
	$97,850.00

Allow the saloon keeper 40 per cent gross profit and to pay the above expense account the saloons of our city must sell each year to amount of

$244,650.00

How much more is taken in is but conjecture. Many men, who have followed the workings of the business in the city, estimate that $300,000.00 is a reasonable amount to estimate.

Allowing that the saloons do a business of.....	$250,000.00
Grant that 10% comes from transients.....	25,000.00
Leaving low estimate of Brainerd's spendings.....	$225,000.00

And Say, Mr. Voter, What ONE good thing comes from all this?

The Saloon---The Trouble Breeder

Did you notice the number of arrests chronicled in last night's Dispatch and did you note the cause—DRINK. One of the police officers is authority for the statement that when the officer arrested one of these men another man flew to the aid of the one being arrested and that, together, they "beat up" the officer and took his star from him—and yet we license a business which produces such results. LEAGUE INTENDS TO MAKE TOWN DRY

Do Not Intend to Confuse this Point with Any Other Political Issue

COUNTY OPTION MOVE STARTED

Some Merchants Being Boycotted by Those Antagonistic to Such Measures

The committee on nominations reported at the meeting of the Brainerd Law Enforcement League and stated that the object of the league was primarily to make the city "dry" and they did not care to confuse this with any other political issues, but urged all members to find out where all candidates stood on the law enforcement proposition.

Former Mayor Will S. Pitt and B. B. Gaylord of Crosby were present at the meeting and brought to the attention of the organization the matter of getting started a petition for county option and the league and chairman were ordered to appoint a committee to call men from various parts of the county next week and start the petitions.

A feature brought out was that many merchants fighting for the cause of law enforcement were being boycotted, it was alleged, by those antagonistic to such measures, but the league counseled against any retaliation measures, but urged all to remember who stood for the principles of the league.

MUCH WEALTH IN FARGO

Deposits in Fargo banks are between $500 and $600 for every man, woman and child in the city. The figures are remarkable when it is considered that the per capita circulation of the United States is but $37.15. Recent statements showing the deposits of the different banks aggregate approximately $9,000,000. This is more than $1,250,000 in excess of the largest deposits ever before shown by previous statements.

UNION CAMPAIGN CLOSED

Meetings Have Been Successful and Splendid Interest Has Been Manifested in the Work

The union evangelical campaign came to an end last night in the Evangelical church. Because of the large number who attended, two meetings were held, one in the main auditorium and the other in the basement of the church. Rev. Zabel preached the sermon to a large body of people and Rev. Lowrie had charge of the overflow service.

The meetings have been highly successful. There has been splendid interest throughout. Besides quickening the spiritual interest of the Christian people there were sixty-one converts. A large percentage of these have been men. Ten persons made a profession of Christ in the two meetings last night.

Rev. Zabel will continue for another week of meetings in this church. He will be assisted by a minister of his own church. Each church participating will have an evangelistic service on Sunday night and a further opportunity will be given any person to identify himself with the Christian life.

An excellent feature of the meetings was the splendid part taken by the laity in doing personal work. It was because of their great help that there has been such good results.

LONG LAKE NEWS

Hector Lamont, brother of Al. Lamont returned to Brainerd Friday.

Al Lamont had the misfortune of getting three of his fingers in the saw last Tuesday.

Wedding bells will soon be ringing in Long Lake.

The bell for the South Long Lake Presbyterian church has arrived and we are glad to say it can be heard a long distance. We are in hopes it will awaken everybody on Sundays.

Charles Peterson and Ben Samuelson are now through plastering the church. Hurrah! Soon the dedication will be at hand.

Roy Norton has had chicken pox.

Marie Gage is now on the road to recovery. We are in hopes she will land at the harbor of health soon.

A crowd of about seventy-five people surprised both Frank and Amos Zeldier's Saturday night. The evening was spent in playing games and at midnight refreshments were served.

The Ladies Aid was well attended Wednesday. The next meeting will be at Mrs. Homer Sutton's.

Axel Peterson and Andrew Anderson have finished cutting their cord wood.

Services were held in the South Long Lake school house Sunday afternoon and evening.

The Long Lake Social club held their meeting Monday night, owing to the bad weather Friday evening.

Dixon's will soon move back on their farm.

Paul Henningson sold his Holstein bull, Friday.

Given by a Brainerd Citizen Doan's Kidney Pills were used—they brought benefit.

The story was told to Brainerd residents.

Time has strengthened the evidence. Has proven the result lasting. The testimony is home testimony—The proof convincing.

It can be investigated by Brainerd residents.

William Wick, R. F. D. No. 4, W. Brainerd, says: "I had kidney and bladder trouble and nothing seemed to benefit me. My back was so bad that I couldn't stoop or straighten after I had been sitting for awhile. I finally got Doan's Kidney Pills at H. P. Dunn's Drug Store and before I had finished one box, I was fixed up in good shape."—(Statement given October 12, 1910)

I agree with them, and believing I can give you a satisfactory assessment, I respectfully solicit your vote at the coming election.

ANNOUNCEMENT

You are going to elect an assessor this spring.

Many of my friends have told me that I would make a good assessor, they know that I have been buying and selling nearly every fine of merchandise used in Brainerd, as well as real estate, for the past thirty-two years, and therefore should be a good judge of true values, I agree with them, and believing I can give you a satisfactory assessment, I respectfully solicit your vote at the coming election.

Doan's Kidney Pills were used—they brought benefit.

The story was told to Brainerd residents.

Time has strengthened the evidence. Has proven the result lasting.

The testimony is home testimony—The proof convincing.

It can be investigated by Brainerd residents.

"William Wick, R. F. D. N. 4, W. Brainerd, says: 'I had kidney and bladder trouble and nothing seemed to benefit me. My back was so bad that I couldn't stoop or straighten after I had been sitting for awhile. I finally got Doan's Kidney Pills at H. P. Dunn's Drug Store and before I had finished one box, I was fixed up in good shape.'—(Statement given October 12, 1910)

Over Three Years Later Mr. Wick said: 'I am glad to say the cure Doan's Kidney Pills made has been permanent.'

FRED GILBERT TO BE HONORED

Riverside Gun Club and 500 Others in United States to Celebrate
Sunday, March 14

THE GILBERT TROPHY SHOOT

Shoot Arranged to Honor Gilbert's Twentieth Anniversary as a Professional Trapshooter

The Fred Gilbert Twentieth Anniversary celebration has been arranged in honor of Mr. Gilbert's twentieth anniversary as a professional trapshooter. He is unquestionably the most popular and expert shooter who ever lived, and all trapshooters are invited to participate in the celebration in his honor.

The Riverside Gun club has its shoot scheduled for Sunday afternoon at 2:30 and the handicap committee has made it possible for every shooter of the club to enter the contest.

The "Fred Gilbert" cup has been secured from the Dupont Powder company and is of beautiful design. The silver cup is on exhibition at the Murphy clothing company store, corner Sixth and Front streets.

A conservative estimate shows there are at least one-half million trapshooters in the country and it is safe to say that the history and records of Fred Gilbert, the greatest trapshot who ever entered the game, are familiar to all. Twenty years ago, in October, 1895, to be exact, Fred Gilbert, a product of the prairies around Spirit Lake, Iowa, and entirely unknown and unheard of outside his own precinct, made his debut to the shooting game at Baltimore, Md., and in the contest for the World's Championship he vanquished a field of the best shots ever gathered together, and instantly ascended the ladder leading to the topmost niche in the hall of trapshooting fame, from which, it is conceded by all, he has never been removed, as, in all the years that have passed, his equal has not been produced, and very likely never will be. As a man and as a shooter, Fred Gilbert is in a class by himself. Quiet and reserved, gentlemanly and courteous to all, he has gone on through the twenty years of his career, shooting in every state in the Union, in most provinces of Canada, and even in England, Scotland and on the Continent, earning the respect of all who saw him by his wonderful marksmanship, and endearing himself to hundreds and hunreds of sportsmen who were fortunate enough to come in close contact with him. Honors he has won, enough to turn the heads of a dozen men, and yet through all the victories and amidst all the honors, he was never anything but "Fred Gilbert" to his friends, the shooters, and they are legion, scattered broadcast throughout the land.

To properly commemorate the twentieth anniversary of Mr. Gilbert as a shooter, a gigantic nation wide celebration has been arranged in his honor. On March 17 he will attend a complimentary shoot and dinner in Wilmington, Delaware, at which a large number of prominent trapshooters will be present from all sections of the country.

To give the gun clubs throughout the country, where Mr. Gilbert is so popular, an opportunity of participating in the affair, a silver loving cup, suitably inscribed, has been offered as a prize to clubs that will hold a "Fred Gilbert" shoot on any date during the period from March 13 to March 20, both days inclusive, and have at least ten shooters, each shooting a minimum of 100 targets, and the local gunners have made application for and received one of these trophies and will hold a shoot for it, as will 500 other clubs throughout the United States and Canada.

Mr. Gilbert has long been known as "The Wizard of Spirit Lake," and a wizard with the shotgun he has been. His records covering the 20 years he has been a shooter, have never been equalled, and for six consecutive years he won the high average for the year, over thousands of other shooters, an unapproachable feat.

As one prominent shooter expressed himself: "Iowa has no prouder boast, no more popular toast than Fred Gilbert, the Wizard of Spirit Lake."

BEMIDJI WINS

Eliminates Little Falls from the Basketball Championship Contest in District

Little Falls, Minn., Mar. 13.—The fast Bemidji high school team cleaned up Little Falls here last night in one of the most interesting games of basketball ever witnessed in this city. The score was 29 to 25.

This victory eliminates Little Falls from the interscholastic tournament which will be held on the Carleton college floor in Northfield next week, and places the victorious quint from the Indian country in line for the state championship.

Bemidji high has a clean record, having won every game it has played this season.

At the end of the first half last night the score stood 19 to 17. Little Falls made a red hot spurt to overcome this lead, but Bemidji gradually walked away from the home team.

ROOSEVELT MAY ENTER PRIMARIES

Republicans Fear His Popularity May Hamper Party.

RURAL CARRIERS' VICTORY.

In Spite of Opposition of Postoffice Department Salaries of Mail Men Are Definitely Fixed—Tillman Puts Interesting Letter From Andrew Carnegie on the Record.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, March 12.—[Special].—"There is nothing in the world to prevent the friends of Roosevelt going into the primaries next year and electing delegates to the Republican national convention."

That statement was made by one of the most prominent bull moose men in congress shortly after a visit to Oyster Bay.

"Is that a threat or a promise?" was the question asked by an old stager in politics, to which no answer was made.

But the statement has caused grave concern among many Republicans who realize the undoubted popularity of Colonel Roosevelt and know that he would upset all calculations as to the next Republican convention if he should again "shy his hat into the ring."

Taft and Roosevelt.

"We have two ex-presidents who are not making a dignified exhibition of themselves if what they are doing is for the purpose of keeping themselves before the public in the hope that they may again become president. Both have contributed their share to wrecking the Republican party, and if we are going to rehabilitate that organization we cannot do it if these men who have been so greatly honored by the party intend to continue their quarrel and insist upon further honors and emoluments."

That statement was made by a prominent Republican who supported Roosevelt in the Chicago convention, but who would not bolt after Taft had been nominated. He does not believe that either Taft or Roosevelt can be nominated by the Republicans or elected if nominated, but he thinks they can make a deal of trouble.

Rural Carriers Won.

Ordinarily when a joint resolution is passed extending the appropriations no attempt is made to legislate, but the rural carriers had friends enough in the last congress to force into the resolution the provision fixing their salaries definitely. This was distasteful to the postoffice department, and it was even said that the postmaster general was willing the appropriation bill should fail because it contained that provision. And yet the department lost all the legislation it wanted and got the very provision it did not want because the rural carriers had the strength in congress.

Ben and Andy in Accord.

One of the last things which Senator Tillman of South Carolina did was to put into the Record a letter from Andrew Carnegie which indorsed Tillman's position on the question of national defense. "It isn't often that Ben and Andy are in the same bed," remarked a senator. One sentence in the letter said, "The professional naval or military official can never be trusted to judge wisely upon professional matters." We may hear more about that later.

Marshall Knew.

There was a point of order raised during the consideration of the Indian appropriation bill as to whether an amendment was "general legislation," and one senator started to enlighten the vice president, who had to decide. "The chair has the egotism to think that the chair knows what general legislation is. This amendment seems to be simply special legislation looking after, or looking after getting—the chair does not know which—the property of the Indians which is held in tribal relations."

Suffrage Went Over.

When the senate was considering measures on the calendar there was reached in regular order the Bristow proposition for woman suffrage. Near it was the Shafroth proposition for another method of obtaining suffrage.

"Owing to the rivalry between senators on the woman suffrage question," remarked Senator Penrose, "and in order that the senate may act impartially and without conflict, and without extending any undue favor to any gentleman earning his spurs on this question, I shall object to both."

And that was the last opportunity the senate had to declare itself on suffrage.

A Mournful Crew.

It was a mournful crew that surrounded the senate just at the close of congress. The Indian appropriation bill with its fat pickings had been side-tracked—talked to death by its opponents. Many a lobbyist had enough in the bill to have kept him in comfort all summer and probably have sent him to the San Francisco exposition.

Years ago a number of men visited the senate, and an old employee was asked what they were doing. "Robbin' Injuns!" was his reply, and the profitable business still continues.

Harry Davis, Who Will Be
Captain of Athletics.

Harry Davis, former first baseman on the Philadelphia Athletics, will be captain of the team this year. Ira Thomas, who was captain of the White Elephants last year, will be given full charge of the pitchers.

It was expected that Thomas would again act as captain this year, although there were reports that there had been friction between Ira and some of the players of the club last season.

In discussing the change in the captaincy Manager Mack said, "The arrangement to make Davis captain and to place Thomas in full charge of the pitchers is satisfactory to all parties."

Harry Davis was captain of the Athletics for several years before he became manager of the Cleveland Americans in 1912. For the past two years he has been coaching the Athletic players.

Ross Yale's Strong Man.

W. F. Ross has broken all previous strength records at Yale university by a margin of 305.8 points. Ross held the previous record of 2,965 points, which he made in 1913. His total number of points in a recent test was 2,970.8.

The record of the test follows: Strength, right forearm, 148; strength, left forearm, 144; strength, back, 485; strength, legs, 1,070; strength, pull ups, 26; strength, push ups, 24; weight, 181½ pounds.

THE MASTER KEY

By John Fleming Wilson

By special arrangement for this paper a photo-drama corresponding to the installments of "The Master Key" may now be seen at the leading moving picture theaters. By arrangement made with the Universal Film Manufacturing company it is not only possible to read "The Master Key" in this paper, but also afterward to see moving pictures of our story.

COPYRIGHT, 1914, BY JOHN FLEMING WILSON

Thus the image became the image of the tutelary deity of the city and its river, with other images to do him homage and obey his commands.

Centuries passed, and the god still maintained his place. His priesthood prospered; his temple was never empty.

So they set out and found the sailor who had stolen it dead in a lane with a knife between his shoulders. And his murderer they discovered in a Chinese seaport gazing horribly at the sky, with a rope twisted tightly about his neck.

So the image passed from hand to hand, always bringing with it death, until some sailor hid it in his chest, and when he had been washed overboard in a storm and his effects were distributed a captain bought the idol for a curio.

It was in his chest that Thomas Gallon had found it when seeking a safe place to hide his precious papers in time of mutiny and fire.

Now, at last, it had fallen into the hands of one of the seekers, and he took it to his little tenement room and prayed to it and swore that he would return it to its proper place in the temple.

There was no response from the image, but when the Indian fell asleep on his rug that night in the alien American city he dreamed that his god appeared to him and spoke of death and destruction yet to follow, commanding him to start instantly for the east.

The next day, while Dorr was seeking for a Hindu selling rugs and Wilkerson was shadowing him the new possessor of the idol was hastening to San Francisco to take steamer for India and the city by the river.

The image was concealed with all reverence in his bundle of rugs, and he moved cautiously, because of the dream.

Strange destiny that centered old Tom Gallon's plans for his daughter's happiness, Dorr's dreams of love, Jean Darnell's lust for wealth and Harry Wilkerson's passion for a woman without a heart in the possession of a grotesque image made by a dreamer in faroff India centuries before when a city died and a river waned within its bed.

And one day a drunken sailor wandered into the temple to stare at the heathen wonders, and when he slipped away the niche of the god was vacant.

"He has gone on a journey," said the terrified priests and concealed the theft. But the high priest sent several of his chosen acolytes throughout the world to seek for and recover the image.

"How shall we find him?" they asked. "By a path of death and destruction," was the answer.

Bush was a good pitcher of the Brainerd nine and also officiated in the outfield, being one of that section of the garden when "Swede" Erickson and Sig Sheffo were his team mates.

Brainerd fans are assured Bush will make good and hope to attend many games seeing him perform on the mound.

BEMIDJI WINS

Eliminates Little Falls from the Basketball Championship Contest in District

Little Falls, Minn., Mar. 13.—The fast Bemidji high school team cleaned up Little Falls here last night in one of the most interesting games of basketball ever witnessed in this city. The score was 29 to 25.

This victory eliminates Little Falls from the interscholastic tournament which will be held on the Carleton college floor in Northfield next week, and places the victorious quint from the Indian country in line for the state championship.

Bemidji high has a clean record, having won every game it has played this season.

At the end of the first half last night the score stood 19 to 17. Little Falls made a red hot spurt to overcome this lead, but Bemidji gradually walked away from the home team.

ROOSEVELT MAY ENTER PRIMARIES

RURAL CARRIERS' VICTORY.

In Spite of Opposition of Postoffice Department Salaries of Mail Men Are Definitely Fixed—Tillman Puts Interesting Letter From Andrew Carnegie on the Record.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, March 12.—[Special].—"There is nothing in the world to prevent the friends of Roosevelt going into the primaries next year and electing delegates to the Republican national convention."

That statement was made by one of the most prominent bull moose men in congress shortly after a visit to Oyster Bay.

"Is that a threat or a promise?" was the question asked by an old stager in politics, to which no answer was made.

But the statement has caused grave concern among many Republicans who realize the undoubted popularity of Colonel Roosevelt and know that he would upset all calculations as to the next Republican convention if he should again "shy his hat into the ring."

Taft and Roosevelt.

"We have two ex-presidents who are not making a dignified exhibition of themselves if what they are doing is for the purpose of keeping themselves before the public in the hope that they may again become president. Both have contributed their share to wrecking the Republican party, and if we are going to rehabilitate that organization we cannot do it if these men who have been so greatly honored by the party intend to continue their quarrel and insist upon further honors and emoluments."

That statement was made by a prominent Republican who supported Roosevelt in the Chicago convention, but who would not bolt after Taft had been nominated. He does not believe that either Taft or Roosevelt can be nominated by the Republicans or elected if nominated, but he thinks they can make a deal of trouble.

Rural Carriers Won.

Ordinarily when a joint resolution is passed extending the appropriations not attempt is made to legislate, but the rural carriers had friends enough in the last congress to force into the resolution the provision fixing their salaries definitely. This was distasteful to the postoffice department, and it was even said that the postmaster general was willing the appropriation bill should fail because it contained that provision. And yet the department lost all the legislation it wanted and got the very provision it did not want because the rural carriers had the strength in congress.

Ben and Andy In Accord.

One of the last things which Senator Tillman of South Carolina did was to put into the Record a letter from Andrew Carnegie which endorsed Tillman's position on the question of national defense. "It isn't often that Ben and Andy are in the same bed," remarked a senator. One sentence in the letter said, "The professional naval or military official can never be trusted to judge wisely upon professional matters." We may hear more about that later.

Marshall Knew.

There was a point of order raised during the consideration of the Indian appropriation bill as to whether an amendment was "general legislation," and one senator started to enlighten the vice president, who had to decide. "The chair has the egotism to think that the chair knows what general legislation is. This amendment seems to be simply special legislation looking after, or looking after getting—the chair does not know which—the property of the Indians which is held in tribal relations."

Suffrage Went Over.

When the senate was considering measures on the calendar there was reached in regular order the Bristow proposition for woman suffrage. Near it was the Shafroth proposition for another method of obtaining suffrage.

"Owing to the rivalry between senators on the woman suffrage question," remarked Senator Penrose, "and in order that the senate may act impartially and without conflict, and without extending any undue favor to any gentleman earning his spurs on this question, I shall object to both."

And that was the last opportunity the senate had to declare itself on suffrage.

A Mournful Crew.

It was a mournful crew that surrounded the senate just at the close of congress. The Indian appropriation bill with its fat pickings had been side-tracked—talked to death by its opponents. Many a lobbyist had enough in the bill to have kept him in comfort all summer and probably have sent him to the San Francisco exposition.

Years ago a number of men visited the senate, and an old employee was asked what they were doing. "Robbin' Injuns" was his reply. And the profitable business still continues.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORT

Harry Davis, Who Will Be
Captain of Athletics.

Harry Davis, former first baseman on the Philadelphia Athletics, will be captain of the team this year. Ira Thomas, who was captain of the White Elephants last year, will be given full charge of the pitchers.

It was expected that Thomas would again act as captain this year, although there were reports that there had been friction between Ira and some of the players of the club last season.

In discussing the change in the captaincy Manager Mack said, "The arrangement to make Davis captain and to place Thomas in full charge of the pitchers is satisfactory to all parties."

Harry Davis was captain of the Athletics for several years before he became manager of the Cleveland Americans in 1912. For the past two years he has been coaching the Athletic players.

Ross Yale's Strong Man.

W. F. Ross has broken all previous strength records at Yale university by a margin of 305.8 points. Ross held the previous record of 2,665 points, which he made in 1913. His total number of points in a recent test was 2,970.8.

The record of the test follows: Strength, right forearm, 148; strength, left forearm, 144; strength, back, 485; strength, legs, 1,070; strength, pull ups, 26; strength, push ups, 24; weight, 181½ pounds.

Thus the image became the image of the tutelary deity of the city and its river, with other images to do him homage and obey his commands.

Centuries passed, and the god still maintained his place. His priesthood prospered; his temple was never empty.

Dorr's Dreams of Love.

And one day a drunken snail wandered into the temple to stare at the heathen wonders, and when he slipped away the niche of the god was vacant.

"He has gone on a journey," said the terrified priests and concealed the theft. But the high priest sent several of his chosen acolytes throughout the world to seek for and recover the image.

"How shall we find him?" they asked. "By a path of death and destruction," was the answer.

So they set out and found the sailor who had stolen it dead in a lane with a knife between his shoulders. And his murderer they discovered in a Chinese seaport gazing horribly at the sky, with a rope twisted tightly about his neck.

So the image passed from hand to hand, always bringing with it death, until some sailor hid it in his chest, and when he had been washed overboard in a storm and his effects were distributed a captain bought the idol for a curio.

It was in his chest that Thomas Gallon had found it when seeking a safe place to hide his precious papers in time of mutiny and fire.

Now, at last, it had fallen into the hands of one of the seekers, and he took it to his little tenement room and prayed to it and swore that he would return it to its proper place in the temple.

There was no response from the image, but when the Indian fell asleep on his rug that night in the alien American city he dreamed that his god appeared to him and spoke of death and destruction yet to follow, commanding him to start instantly for the east.

The next day, while Dorr was seeking for a Hindu selling rugs and Wilkerson was shadowing him the new possessor of the idol was hastening to San Francisco to take steamer for India and the city by the river.

The image was concealed with all reverence in his bundle of rugs, and he moved cautiously, because of the dream. Strange destiny that centered old Tom Gallon's plans for his daughter's happiness, Dorr's dreams of love, Jean Darnell's lust for wealth and Harry Wilkerson's passion for a woman without a heart in the possession of a grotesque image made by a dreamer in faroff India centuries before when a city died and a river waned within its bed.
